

Early Journal Content on JSTOR, Free to Anyone in the World

This article is one of nearly 500,000 scholarly works digitized and made freely available to everyone in the world by JSTOR.

Known as the Early Journal Content, this set of works include research articles, news, letters, and other writings published in more than 200 of the oldest leading academic journals. The works date from the mid-seventeenth to the early twentieth centuries.

We encourage people to read and share the Early Journal Content openly and to tell others that this resource exists. People may post this content online or redistribute in any way for non-commercial purposes.

Read more about Early Journal Content at <http://about.jstor.org/participate-jstor/individuals/early-journal-content>.

JSTOR is a digital library of academic journals, books, and primary source objects. JSTOR helps people discover, use, and build upon a wide range of content through a powerful research and teaching platform, and preserves this content for future generations. JSTOR is part of ITHAKA, a not-for-profit organization that also includes Ithaka S+R and Portico. For more information about JSTOR, please contact support@jstor.org.

historical medical interest lent for the exhibition."

UNIVERSITY AND EDUCATIONAL NEWS.

THE Woman's College of Baltimore has received gifts amounting to $580,000. Of this amount $500,000 was needed to clear the college of debt and $80,000 will be added to the endowment fund. Mr. Andrew Carnegie gave $50,000; the Massey estate, through Mr. Chester D. Massey, Toronto, Canada, $50,000; other gifts range from small amounts to $30,000. The treasurer of the college puts the assets of the college as follows: Grounds, buildings and equipment, $701,000; endowment, $719,135.

GOVERNOR HIGGINS has approved a bill appropriating $80,000 for a school of agriculture at St. Lawrence University, with an additional $12,000 for maintenance. This school, it is understood, will be managed in cooperation with the authorities of the State College of Agriculture at Cornell University.

By the will of Catherine L. R. Catlin, of New York, $60,000 is left to religious and charitable institutions, including $10,000 to New York University.

THE administration building at Vanderbilt University, which was destroyed by fire on April 20 of last year, involving a loss of over $250,000, is nearing completion again. The walls are of stone, brick and terra-cotta, and the floors, ceilings and roof are of reinforced concrete so that destruction by fire will not again be possible.

THE electors to the Linacre professorship of comparative anatomy, vacant by the death of Professor Weldon, will proceed to an election in the month of July. Candidates are desired to send in their names so as to reach the registrar's office not later than July 7. No testimonials are to be submitted, but candidates are invited to send in with their names eight copies of a brief statement of their career and of their scientific work and experience.

AT Yale University the following appointments have been made: Leo Frederick Rettger, M.A., Ph.D., assistant professor of bacteriology and hygiene in the Sheffield Scientific School; William Ebenezer Ford, Jr., Ph.D., assistant professor of mineralogy in the Sheffield Scientific School.

IN the College of Physicians and Surgeons, Columbia University, Dr. Philip Hanson Hiss, Jr., has been promoted to a chair of bacteriology and Dr. F. C. Wood to a chair of clinical pathology.

AT Barnard College, Columbia University, Dr. Herbert M. Richards has been promoted to a professorship of botany; Dr. Edward Kasner, to an adjunct professorship in mathematics; Dr. Ida H. Ogilvie and Miss Margaret A. Reed have been appointed tutors in geology and zoology, respectively; Dr. Vivian A. C. Henmon has been appointed lecturer in psychology.

THE non-resident professors engaged for the summer session of the University of Wisconsin are Miss Jane Addams, Hull House, Chicago; Professor Gilbert A. Bliss, mathematics, Princeton; Professor Albert Perry Brigham, geology and natural history, Colgate; Professor Louis H. Burch, manual arts, Western Illinois Normal School; Professor Henry R. Fairclough, Latin, Leland Stanford Junior University; Professor Edward J. Lake, art and design, University of Illinois; Professor Thomas K. Urdahl, political and social science, Colorado College; Professor Claude H. VanTyne, American history, University of Michigan; Professor William H. Williams, mathematics, Platteville Normal School. Besides these non-resident professors a large number of the regular members of the university faculty will give courses in the summer session, including Professors Munro, Bardeen, Ely, Harper, Hohlfeld, Pyre, Showerman, Trowbridge, Voss, Kahlenberg, Daniels, Elliott, C. E. Allen, Laird, Lathrop, Frost, McGilvary, Slichter and Tressler.

DR. AUGUSTUS G. POHLMAN, of Buffalo, has been appointed associate professor of anatomy in Indiana University.

DR. KNIGHT DUNLAP, instructor in psychology at the University of California, has been elected instructor in psychology at the Johns Hopkins University.